

Awards rules

Entry

- The deadline for the EHI Awards 2011 in association with BT is 16.00 on Friday 3 June 2011. Entries received after the deadline will not be counted.
- There is no entry fee.
- For 2011 there are specific entry forms relating directly to the criteria for each category. This should help you structure your answer and will also help our judges with the all important judging process.
- All entries must be made online. You must answer all questions on the online entry form.
- Organisations can only enter an individual project into one category. If the same project is entered into more than one category you will be contacted and advised that the most appropriate category for your entry has been chosen. However, separate projects from the same organisation can be entered into the same category.
- The EHI Awards 2011 in association with BT are open to any healthcare IT organisation of any size based in the UK.
- International entries will not be counted. Your entry must demonstrate direct links with the UK healthcare IT sector.
- All entries must be authorised by a senior representative from the organisation.
- Entry implies acceptance of the rules.
- Entries will not be returned unless requested at the time of entering.

Judging

- Judging will take place in London during the week commencing 25 July 2011.
- Please note: entrants being considered for the shortlist may be called to discuss their project.
- If the judges consider an entry inappropriate for the category in which it was entered they will include it in that category they consider most suitable.
- The judges' decision is final and no correspondence will be entered into on any account regarding the results of any part of the competition.

Publicity

- Shortlisted entries will be required to send in a photo of the entrant(s) for our 'Book of the Night'.
- All the parties involved in the organisation or promotion of the awards reserve the right to publicity concerning any entry.
- Details of the shortlisted entries and winners will appear on the EHI Awards 2011 in association with BT, and E-Health Insider portal and newsletters. Details may also be released to other publications.
